

NCAPT 2011 Spring CONFERENCE
Call for Poster Presentations
March 18th & 19th, 2011
Appalachian State University, Boone, NC

The NCAPT Spring Conference will feature guest speaker Dr. Dee Ray, whose topic will be Play Themes and Aggression. Increased student involvement is an important initiative of NCAPT; therefore, we are inviting mental health major graduate students to submit poster presentation applications which, if accepted, will be displayed during the Spring Conference at Appalachian State University.

Four poster presentations will be selected to display their projects. The four selected posters will receive free registration for the Spring 2011 NCAPT conference.

In order to meet the diverse requests and needs of conference attendees, we are especially interested in the following topics:

- *Grief/loss associated with death/divorce, trauma, attachment, anger/aggression
- *School-based and short-term models
- * Ethical and legal issues
- *Supervision
- *Evidence-based practices, on-going research
- *Various theoretical/experiential applications: creative arts, sandplay/sandtray, developmental, prescriptive, etc.
- * Social and cultural foundation
- *Assessment/treatment in play therapy
